Flash flooding was common in southeast Polk County at Wolf Pen Gap Campground during the evening of 09/09/2001. A bridge was washed away, stranding several campers. The picture is courtesy of The Honorable Ray B. Stanley...Polk County Judge.

Heavy rains resulted in flash flooding across a large part of southeast Polk County. Several roads were flooded, with county roads 61, 67, 69, and 664 washed out. At least a dozen bridges were washed out as well. People were stranded in campgrounds due to the bridge and road washouts. Also, a pontoon boat was washed out of a lake, over a small dam, and ended up in a county road.
